The voices of Mae Whitman, Lucy Liu, Raven-Symoné, America Ferrera, Kristin Chenoweth and Pamela Adlon appear in the films. Six feature films and one TV special were produced: Tinker Bell, Tinker Bell and The Lost Treasure, Tinker Bell and The Great Rescue Fairy, Secret of the Wings, Pixie Hollow Games (the special), The Pirate Fairy, and Tinker Bell and the Legend of NeverBeast. The series is a spin-off and prequel for Peter Pan and its sequel, Back to Never Land. Tinker Bell Films (2008) Main article: Tinker Bell (Mae Whitman) is born from the first laugh of a baby, and is presented by the winds to Pixie Hollow (which is part of the island of Never Land). She learns that her talent is to be one of the dly, the faeries who do and fix things. Two other tinkr faeries, Bobble (Rob Paulsen) and Clank (Jeff Bennett), teach her their art, and tell her about the faeries who visit the mainland to bring each season. Tink is excited and can't wait to go to the mainland for spring. While out working, he meets Silvermist (Lucy Liu), a water fairy; Rosetta (Kristin Chenoweth), an Iridessa garden fairy (Raven-Symoné), a light fairy; and Fawn (America Ferrera), an animal fairy. After meeting them, she observes Vidia (Pamela Adlon), a fast-flying fairy who immediately dislikes her because of her unusually strong talent. Vidia challenges her to prove that she will be able to go to the mainland, and Tink creates several inventions from Lost Things (in which some other faeries see it as garbage) that she found on the beach, which she points to the Minister of Spring (Steve Valentine). But Tinker Bell soon learns from Queen Clarion (Anjelica Huston) that only nature-talent faeries visit the mainland. Desperate to help change the seasons on the mainland, Tink tries her hand at nature skills-making cools with Silvermist, lighting fireflies with Iridessa, and with Fawn to teach baby birds to fly, but fails miserably in all of them. Meanwhile, Bobble and Clank cover for Tink when asked by Fairy Mary (Jane Horrocks), the tinkr fairy supervisor. When Tinker Bell comes back, she tries to explain, but Mary just answers what she knows and expresses it. Expresses. With Ting's actions. On the beach, Tinker Bell finds parts of a music box and figures out how to put them together. Iridessa, Fawn, Silvermist, and Rosetta witness her doing this, then tell her that she was tinkering and that she should be proud of her talent-if that's what she's good at, the mainland shouldn't matter. But Tinkerbell still wants to go to the mainland. He asks Rosetta if he'll still teach her to be a garden fairy, but Rosetta says dry is Tinkerbell's natural talent. As a last resort, Tinker Bell asks Vidia for help in becoming a garden fairy. Vidia skillfully tells her that capturing the thistle spirit will prove her worth. However, once he sees Tink making progress, he lets the captured thistle loose, and in trying to recover them, Tink destroys all preparations for spring. After seeing the restoration he caused, Tink decides to run, but after talking to dust-guard Terence (Jesse McCartney) about how important his job is, he realizes the importance of a tinkr. Tinker Bell redeems itself by using Lost Things to invent machines that speed up the process of doing tedious tasks such as decorating flowers, painting bugs, planting seeds, etc. This allows the other faeries to get back into the program, thus saving the arrival of spring. Vidia is punished for urging her to cause chaos, and Queen Clarion allows Tink to join the art-talented faeries when they bring spring to the mainland. Tinker Bell has the task of delivering the music box to its original owner (it appears to be Wendy Darling). The narrator ends by saying that when lost toys are found or a broken clock begins to work, it all means that a very special fairy can be nearby. Tinker Bell and the Lost Treasure (2009) Main article: Tinker Bell and the Lost Treasure Friendly fairy Tinker Bell (Mae Whitman) mean well, but often gets into trouble. Nevertheless, Pixie Hollow has trusted her by ensuring their magical moonstone keeps their pixie powder in abundant supply. But tragedy strikes when Tinker Bell tries to take on this important task - accidentally breaking the moonstone. To get it back in one piece, Tinker Bell will have to find an enchanted mirror and accept a little help from harassing Pixie Terence (Jesse McCartney). Tinker Bell and the Great Rescue Fairy (2010) Main article: Tinker Bell and the Great Fairy Rescue Years before meeting Wendy and the Lost Boys, Tinker Bell (Mae Whitman) met Lizzy (Lauren Mote), a little girl with a firm belief in the power of pixie dust and the magical land of faeries. During the fairy's summer visit to the flowering meadows of England, two very worlds come together for the first time and Ting develops a special bond with a curious child who needs a friend. As the teammates of Irdessa (Raven-Symoné), Silvermist (Lucy Liu), Rosetta (Kristin Chenoweth), Fawn (Angela Bartys), and Vidia (Pamela Adlon) embark on a daring rescue, Tinker Bell takes a huge risk by putting her own and the future of all the faeries in danger. Secret of wings (2012) Main article: Secret of wings secret of wings (originally titled Tinker Bell and the Mysterious Winter Forest)[3] was released on DVD on October 23, 2012. Tinker Bell (Mae Whitman) crosses the restricted area in Winter Woods, where it's always winter. While there her wings begin to shine so she embarks on a quest to find out why. She is thrilled to learn that her wings shone because she was close to her sister, Periwinkle (Lucy Hale). They were born when a baby's laugh was split in two. Visiting for a few hours before Tinker Bell is said to have to leave. Determined to help her sister visit Pixie Hollow, she crafted a contraption that grates snow to keep Peri cold during her visit. The device malfunctions badly, causing a freeze to slowly wrap Pixie Hollow. Tinker Bell flies to Winter Woods to pick up Periwinkle and her friends to help save Pixie Hollow. They realize that frost protects trees in Winter Woods from the cold, so the winter faeries all work together to freeze the trees of Pixie Hollow to save from accelerating freezing. They learn, however, that when Tink crashed into Winter Woods tore her wing, and broken wings can't be repaired. But when Ting and Peri join their wings again, they shine, and learn that identical wings can heal each other, so they restore Ting's broken wing. They also discover that winter faeries can freeze the wings of warm weather faeries, keeping them from breaking into the cold, thus allowing them to visit their friends in the winter forest. The Pirate Fairy (2014) Main article: The Pirate Fairy Another feature film, titled The Pirate Fairy,[4] (originally titled Quest for the Queen)[5] was released on 1 April 2014. [6] The film was originally scheduled for fall 2013, but another DisneyToon Studios movie, Airplanes, took its place. [5] A trailer for the film was released on Blu-ray Wing Secret and DVD on October 23, 2012. [7] It was directed by the secret of the wing manager, Peggy Holmes. The film introduced new characters, Zarina, voiced by Christina Hendricks, and James aka Captain Hook, voiced by Tom Hiddleston. [4] Carlos Ponce also voiced one of the characters in the film. [8] When a misunderstood fairy dust-keeper named Zarina steals pixie hollow's all-important blue powder and flies off to join forces with pirates of skull rock, Tinker Bell and her fairy friends must embark on the adventure of a lifetime to return it to its rightful place. However, in the midst of Zarina's pursuit, Ting's world has turned upside down. She and her friends find that their respective talents have changed and they have to race against time to retrieve the Blue Pixie Dust and return home to save Pixie Hollow. [4] Tinker Bell and the Legend of NeverBeast (2014) Main article: Tinker Bell and NeverBeast Legend released in cinemas december 2014.[9] and was released directly on video in the United States on March 3, 2015. [10] Directed by Steve Loter and produced by Makul Wigert. [11] Composer Joel McNeely returned to the film. [12] Mae Whitman, Lucy Liu, Raven-Symoné, Megan Hilty, Pamela Adlon and Angelica Huston resume their roles of TinkerBell, Silvermist, Iridessa, Rosetta, Vidia and Quinn Clarion. [11] Ginnifer Goodwin replaces Angela Bartys as Fawn's voice in this film. [10] Rosario Dawson and Olivia Holt join the cast as new characters Nyx and Morgan, respectively. [10] When Fawn meets a legendary creature, the Neverbeast, she befriends the creature in no time. But when she learns that the creature could be part of a terrible event, she will have to trust her instincts to save her new boyfriend, and all of Pixie Hollow. Unreleased films Canceled seventh film In addition to Tinker Bell and the Legend of NeverBeast, Disney also had plans for a seventh film. In 2015, The Hollywood Reporter reported that the seventh film was canceled due to history problems. [13] The title of the film and its original release date were unknown. On June 28, 2018, the Walt Disney Company had officially closed the production studio of the film series, DisneyToon Studios. Live-action film In 2015, it was announced that a live-action film, with Reese Witherspoon playing Tinker Bell and Victoria Stuz writing the screenplay, is underway. [14] Since 2020, no further developments have been reported in the project. [15] Short films Pixie Hollow Games (2011) Main article: Pixie Hollow Games Originally scheduled to feature the entire cast of previous films in Olympic style games spanning four seasons, probably due to the original veto plot by producers, the story was reduced to a smaller script focusing mainly on Rosetta (Megan Hilty, replacing Kristin Chenoweth) and a new fairy character , Chloe (Brenda Song). It is collaborating with rosetta will representing garden faeries in a competition in which they hope to dethrone undefeated storm faeries. They overcome their differences and Rosetta's fear of getting dirty, coming out victorious at the end of the race. Pixie Hollow Bake Off (2013) Main article: Pixie Hollow Bake Off A six-minute short film, titled Pixie Hollow Bake Off, aired in the UK on October 20, 2013, on the Disney Channel. Lisa Faulkner provided a voice for a baking fairy named Gelata. [16] The short was released in the United States as a bonus DVD in a Walmart-exclusive version of The Pirate Fairy on Blu-ray Disc, but with Giada De Laurentis as the voice of Gelata. [17] In July 2014 the short was made available to the digital film service Disney Movies Anywhere.
